THE FAMOUS JETT JACKSON

WHAT IT IS

Imagine this...you're a 13-year-old who just happens to be a famous actor with your own TV series where you play a too-cool-for-school secret agent. The problem is, in real life you're just a normal kid. You live with your great grandma, your dad's the town sheriff, and you really do have to go to school. But all your friends expect you to be able to do all the cool secret agent stuff in real life that they see you do on TV. They don't understand that you're just like them.

MEET THE STAR

Lee Young is the bright new star who plays Jett Jackson. Lee may only play a secret agent on TV, but he really is skilled in the martial arts and he even knows how to swordfight...Cool! Plus he rollerblades, plays basketball and is a freestyle poet. Man, this guy does everything!

EARS: Do you do any of your own stunts?

LEE: I do some of my own stunts... I had to hang off a fence from my underwear in one stunt.

THE INVESTIGATION

Exclusive Behind the EARS interview with Lee Young!

EARS INVESTIGATOR: When did you know you wanted to be an actor?

LEE YOUNG: I knew when I was 10-years-old after I was in a community play (Lee grew up in Columbia, South Carolina) called "A Night of Stars and Kings." I played Martin Luther King.

LEE: I like learning the intricacies of a character, building that character's personality and finding out all the details about who I'm going to be playing.

Behind the EARS

EARS: Who do you look up to? Do you have any mentors, idols, favorite actors, or people that you would like to learn from?

LEE: Yes and no. Every actor is my mentor. I try to pick up what I can from them to incorporate into my own style. I learn from everyone.

EARS: Do you have any projects lined up after you're done with Jett Jackson?

LEE: The only thing I have planned for after shooting is going back to New York and chilling with my friends for a while.

EARS: You came from South Carolina and moved your family to New York when you started acting, right?

LEE: I put on a one man show called Young Treasures (as in Lee YOUNG) when I was 12 to raise money to get a manager and move to New York. The show was poetry, local folk tales, that kind of stuff.

CATCH IT

GEORGE OF THE JUNGLE
A Saturday PremEAR
Dec. 5th at 7pm/6c

WHAT IT IS

San Francisco socialite Ursula Stanhope skips out on her engagement to go on an adventure—a safari to Africa in search of the fabled White Ape of Ape Mountain.

There she meets our hero George of the Jungle, falls in love—and sets off an adventure that stretches from Ape Mountain to the Golden Gate.

APE

SHEP

OUR CAST

BRENDAN FRASER

BRENDAN FRASER is George of the Jungle, whose best friends are a gorilla named APE and a pet elephant named SHEP.

Brendan says "George is the quintessential dumb-luck hero." George loves swinging through the trees—except when he crashes into 'em. (You might say he's "navigationally challenged.")

LESLIE MANN

LESLIE MANN plays socialite Ursula Stanhope, who ditches her intended for a wild time on safari.

THE HUNCHBACK OF NOTRE DAME

Behind the EARS

Back On Dec. 26th

WHAT IT IS

Quasimodo, the Hunchback of Notre Dame, ventures down into the streets of Paris where he meets the beautiful gypsy Esmeralda.

THE DISNEY FILES

HUNCHBACK was the first film to be produced at Disney's new animation studio in Burbank.

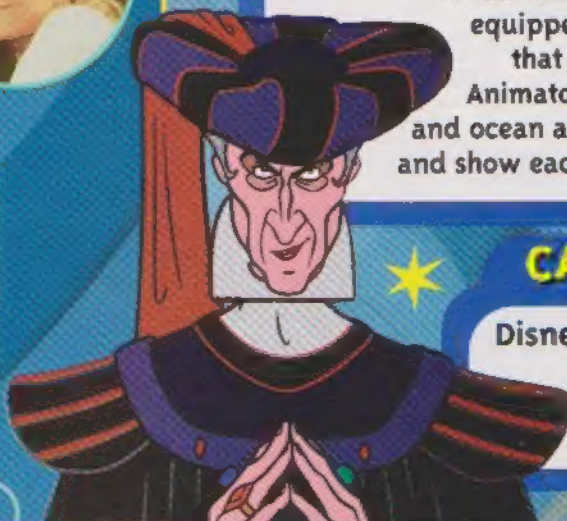

The building is EARmarked by a 60-foot-tall Sorcerer's Apprentice hat at its entrance. Work on the movie was also done at Disney's animation studios in Paris and Florida (where animators had just started work on "Mulan").

To communicate between Burbank and Paris, animators used a "virtual hallway"—a conference room equipped with two-way cameras that ran 24 hours a day. Animators a whole continent and ocean away could talk about and show each other their work.

WHAT IT IS

When a priceless, but stolen, gem accidentally falls into the bumbling hands of millionaire Quincy Magoo, a sinister plot is hatched to steal it back.

Despite being the target of evil plots, the clue-less Magoo always manages to cheat death and foil the culprits.

FAST FAX

There were four different English Bulldogs used to play Mr. Magoo's pet Angus—and three were girls! All four dogs—Lili, Cissy, Lazania, and Billy—had to have their coats dyed to match each other. The dye-jobs took almost an hour, but the dog trainer said "they were good about it."

Disney

STUNT KING

Mr. Magoo was directed by Stanley Tong, the man behind the out-of-control stunts you see in the Jackie Chan karate flicks. Both Leslie Nielsen and leading lady Kelly Lynch did most of their own stunts. Check out their action!

WHAT IT IS

Don't forget to put your baby teeth under your pillow as Kirstie Alley brings the Tooth Fairy to life.

When Katherine—a dentist who likes to inflict pain on her patients—accidentally dies, she must serve time as the Tooth Fairy in order to get to heaven!

But on her first assignment back on Earth, Katherine commits the biggest of all Tooth Fairy no-nos...she talks to 12-year-old Bobby Jameson. Will the Tooth Fairy supervisor give Katherine another chance?

FAST FAX

Kirstie Alley, who has two kids of her own, was excited about doing TOOTHLESS. "I want to do one project a year for my kids..."

Kirstie's nine-year-old daughter even helped design the Tooth Fairy dress. She thought the dress should be "fluffy, twinkly, and magical."

a bug's life

WHAT IT IS

Academy Award winning director John Lasseter ("Toy Story") and the animation team at Pixar Animation Studios and Walt Disney Feature Animation take the storytelling art of computer animation to spectacular new heights.

Life is no picnic for the ants on Ant Island. Each summer a gang of greedy grasshoppers descends upon Ant Island to steal the ants' hard earned food. Catch the "ant-ics" of a misfit young ant named Flik as he tries to save his colony on Ant Island from the greedy grasshoppers and their evil leader Hopper.

Flik's attempts at heroism seem headed for disaster when the troop of bugs he enlists to help save the colony turn out to be a motley bunch of misfit performers from a flea circus.

Hopper

He's hungry. He's horrible. He's Hopper! Jumping at the chance to be cruel, Hopper and his gang rove from ant colony to ant colony stealing the food the ants work hard all year to collect.

While exploring the remote Pangani Mountains in Africa, zoologist Gregg O'Hara comes upon an incredible discovery—an awesome 15-foot gorilla (!) and a 21-year-old orphan girl, Jill, who raised the gorilla and named him Joe.

When Joe's life is threatened by poachers, Gregg and Jill race to save the gorilla's life by bringing him to California.
